

Office of the Registrar

Dear Students,

Stellic is Now Available

We are pleased to announce that Stellic, our new degree planning platform, is now available to all students, effective today, Monday, August 24!

You can access Stellic through the Walsh Portal or the CAV Center. This new platform will help you plan your future coursework, monitor your academic progress toward graduation, and explore alternative major pathways in one location. A dedicated Stellic webpage is now available and includes information and resources to help you get started. We also encourage you to explore the interactive demo, which walks you step-by-step through the platform.

Review Your Degree Audit

Walsh University academic advisors have spent the summer reviewing student records in Stellic. Now it's your turn to help us confirm the accuracy of the transition of your paper evaluation sheets to this new electronic platform. If you notice any discrepancies in your degree audit — such as the major, general education requirements, missing course substitutions, or waivers — please contact your academic advisor (listed by name in Stellic) as soon as possible.
